Date: Tuesday 6 July 2010
Time: 09.30am - 11.30am

Paul Robinson, Chief Sterling Strategist at Barclays Capital, was recruited by Barclays in 2006 after 11 years with the Bank of England, where he was responsible for briefing the Monetary Policy Committee on the current state and short-term prospects of the UK macro economy.

We hope you are able to join us at the May economic forum where Paul will give a 20 minute commentary on the latest developments for Sterling, with a 10 minute open forum for questions. This will be followed by the opportunity to network and discuss the issues that are currently arising for local businesses.
